

In college, you're exposed to a lot of new things. Don't let the flu be one of them.

Higher education means a higher risk
of exposure to the flu.

So if you're in college, get your seasonal flu vaccination right now. It's a smart course of action, and your best shot at staying healthy.

For more information, ask your health care provider or pharmacist, call 2-1-1 or visit www.ldh.la.gov/FightTheFlu.

